

GOOD FARM SPOILED.

BY THE GHOST OF WHAT WAS PROPOSED TO BE A MAGIC CITY.

Fate of a Boom Built on Railroad Rights—Indemnities for Carrying Concealed Weapons.

(Correspondence of the Richmond Dispatch.)
MARLBOROUGH, VIRGINIA, October 26.—The Circuit Court for this county has been in session here for the past three days, Judge Nelson presiding. This is the second term of the court held here since the removal of the court from Haverhill. It was acting upon the plea that the Chesapeake and Ohio railway would join the West Virginia and Virginia Central at this point, and that the county was taken over by the railroad. The court has decided that the county is not to be taken over by the railroad, and that the county is to remain as it is. The court has also decided that the county is to be indemnified for carrying concealed weapons.

A NEW COURT-HOUSE.
The county has made an appropriation of $25,000 to build a new court-house at this place. Some of the work on the foundation has already been done, but the building will not be completed until next spring. The situation of the county is decidedly a pretty one, but it does seem a pity to play such a good farm with so few houses.

LUMBER SHIPMENTS.
The shipping of lumber from the James River in this county continues without interruption. The lumber is shipped down the river in the Greenbrier river, and is then shipped to the markets of the east. The shipping of lumber from the James River in this county continues without interruption.

RUNNING THE LOGS.
As soon as the rains and snow shall melt, the streams of the county will be alive with logs, and then the loggers will be busy. The loggers will be busy running the logs down the river, and then they will be shipped to the markets of the east.

PERSONAL.
Professor A. M. Byrd, formerly of Hollins Academy, is now teaching a large school of boys at this place. Mr. W. A. Beaton, a former student of Washington University, is located here, and is now teaching a school of boys at this place.

BRANCH BANK FOR CHASE CITY.
A colored violator of the liquor law was fined and imprisoned. A large number of the business-men of Chase City have petitioned the Bank of Mechanicsville of this place, to establish a branch office in their town. The board of directors have been called to meet at an early date to consider this request, which is very probable will be complied with as soon as may be possible.

TO SAVE EXPENSES.
In order to save the Commonwealth that unnecessary expense, our county has issued an address to the justices of the peace in this county. It is a most thoughtful and judicious move, and it is to be hoped that it will be successful in its effort to re-establish a peace market here.

MINISTERS' AND LAYMEN'S MEETING.
A very attractive and interesting programme for the next meeting of the Ministers' and Laymen's Association of this county. The programme is as follows: A large number of the business-men of Chase City have petitioned the Bank of Mechanicsville of this place, to establish a branch office in their town.

THE ALBEMARLE PIPPIN.
The justice that is done by being shipped under another name. AVON, VA., October 18, 1893. To the Editor of the Dispatch: Will you kindly grant me space for a few lines in regard to "Albemarle Pippin"?

FLEMINGS' KILL FRANK PHILLIPS.
Reported Difficulty in Kentucky—Trouble About the Name for the House. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
CLINTWOOD, VA., October 30.—It is reported here that Frank Phillips, who was engaged in a difficulty recently with the former was killed. The fact is reported to the effect that he was killed in Kentucky, where he was living, and where he was engaged in a difficulty recently with the former.

DICKENSON'S CLAIM.
This county (Dickenson) claims the Democratic member, under an agreement entered into by the county of Wise, Dickenson, and Buchanan, which compose the legislative district. This agreement was made in 1880, and it was then agreed that Dickenson should be the Democratic member, and Buchanan should be the Republican member.

WORK OF THE GRIM REAPER.
Mr. R. Smith and Mrs. Frances Yates Pass Away—Mammoth Tuberculosis. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., October 26.—Mr. Benjamin Smith died at his residence in Pileville yesterday, aged about 25 years, of consumption, to which he had been a sufferer for some time. Mr. Joseph Smith, one of the latter-day prophets, is reported to have been killed in a fight with a bear in the mountains of Idaho.

DOBBIE OWES $30,000.

HIS ACCOUNT BOOKS SHOW A MUCH LARGER AMOUNT DUE HIM.

His Book Act Might Have Been Prevented—Political Outlook in City and County—Davidson's Barbecue.

(Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., October 21.—It is reported that the indebtedness of the late R. M. Dobbie was about $30,000. An examination of his books shows accounts due him to a much larger amount, but many of these are of long standing, and it is not supposed that they will realize anything like their value. It is, indeed, many of them are worth anything. It is further reported that administrators will qualify on the estate in the Petersburg Court on Monday, when they will make a definite understanding as to the status of affairs in his case may be had.

ARRANGING FOR A BARBECUE.
The Davidson county are arranging for a big barbecue at the court-house on Thursday next, on the occasion of the visit and speech of Colonel Charles O'Ferrall, of the 10th Cavalry. The barbecue will be a grand affair, and it is expected that a large number of people will attend.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE POPULISTS IN THIS CITY IS ANYTHING BUT PLEASANT. Miss Kate McKelvey presided at the organ, and while a beautiful wedding march was played the bride party entered in the following order: Mr. J. W. Conway with Miss Edmonia Goulding; Mr. Bird Holloway with Miss Ida Colburn; Mr. James Goulding with Miss Ida Colburn; Mr. James Goulding with Miss Ida Colburn.

ANNIVERSARY.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Tyler celebrated the second anniversary of their marriage on Thursday night, at a street last night. The yard was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the spacious double porch was decorated with ferns and flowers.

MISS NANCY T. PITTMAN, aged 65 years, died this morning at her residence, in this city. William P. Lampkin, a prominent citizen of Mechanicsville, died last Thursday at his home, near Oak Grove. One of the marble columns of the old Mary Washington monument, which was in the process of being repaired, has been stolen. Steps have been taken to catch the thieves.

DISAPPOINTED REPUBLICANS.
The Williamsburg delegation to receive General Rosser—Personal. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., October 21.—The Republicans were much disappointed here to-day at the non-arrival of General Thomas L. Rosser, who had been billed, in flaming pink posters, to address the people at the court-house. The people were disappointed, and the Republicans were disappointed.

MR. CATON'S DECLINATION.
A Great Surprise But It Restored Party Harmony—An Independent. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
ALEXANDRIA, VA., October 21.—The declaration by Mr. James R. Caton, of the anti-Benjamin faction nomination for the House of Delegates, was a complete surprise to nearly every one in the convention, as he had stated in interviews in the local papers and elsewhere that his going into politics was his brother's, and that he would do so, but a short while before he was nominated. While appreciating the honor conferred upon him by his friends, he had declined to run, and he had declined to run.

THE JUSTICE THAT IS DONE BY BEING SHIPPED UNDER ANOTHER NAME.
AVON, VA., October 18, 1893. To the Editor of the Dispatch: Will you kindly grant me space for a few lines in regard to "Albemarle Pippin"?

CONFERENCE—ACTIVE WORK NEEDED.
WYTHEVILLE, VA., October 21.—Colonel C. T. O'Ferrall and Judge John H. Fulton spoke here to-night in the Town Hall to a large audience, which listened attentively and greeted the speakers with warm applause. The speakers came in town to attend the speaking, some of them from a considerable distance. Colonel O'Ferrall warned the Democrats of the country against over-confidence, and urged them to actively exert themselves to save their party honor, and their principles. His remarks were forcible, and at times eloquent.

ANOTHER DANVILLE STORM.
Byrdville Depot Struck by Lightning and Consumed—Struck by a Car. (Special telegram to the Dispatch.)
DANVILLE, VA., October 21.—This city and section were visited by a heavy rain and storm, accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy peals of thunder. The volume of water which fell was very great, the Dan river now standing at five feet. The storm, from reports, appears to have been much greater up the country. Lightning struck the depot on the Danville and Western railroad, and the building was consumed. The post-office and a general merchandise store, conducted by a R. C. Dennis, the operator, agent, and collector, were also consumed. The depot was destroyed, and the loss was estimated at $50,000. The tobacco market brightened up a little here this week, and the price of tobacco is now about 10 cents per pound.

THE DOG NUISANCE.
To the Editor of the Dispatch: Is there no way to abate the horrible dog nuisance that exists in this city? No one can ride or drive rapidly without being annoyed by the dogs. The dogs are a nuisance, and they are a nuisance. The dogs are a nuisance, and they are a nuisance.

DANVILLE, VA., October 21.—This city and section were visited by a heavy rain and storm, accompanied by sharp lightning and heavy peals of thunder. The volume of water which fell was very great, the Dan river now standing at five feet. The storm, from reports, appears to have been much greater up the country. Lightning struck the depot on the Danville and Western railroad, and the building was consumed. The post-office and a general merchandise store, conducted by a R. C. Dennis, the operator, agent, and collector, were also consumed. The depot was destroyed, and the loss was estimated at $50,000. The tobacco market brightened up a little here this week, and the price of tobacco is now about 10 cents per pound.

THE DOG NUISANCE.
To the Editor of the Dispatch: Is there no way to abate the horrible dog nuisance that exists in this city? No one can ride or drive rapidly without being annoyed by the dogs. The dogs are a nuisance, and they are a nuisance. The dogs are a nuisance, and they are a nuisance.

DOBBIE OWES $30,000.

HIS ACCOUNT BOOKS SHOW A MUCH LARGER AMOUNT DUE HIM.

His Book Act Might Have Been Prevented—Political Outlook in City and County—Davidson's Barbecue.

(Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., October 21.—It is reported that the indebtedness of the late R. M. Dobbie was about $30,000. An examination of his books shows accounts due him to a much larger amount, but many of these are of long standing, and it is not supposed that they will realize anything like their value. It is, indeed, many of them are worth anything. It is further reported that administrators will qualify on the estate in the Petersburg Court on Monday, when they will make a definite understanding as to the status of affairs in his case may be had.

ARRANGING FOR A BARBECUE.
The Davidson county are arranging for a big barbecue at the court-house on Thursday next, on the occasion of the visit and speech of Colonel Charles O'Ferrall, of the 10th Cavalry. The barbecue will be a grand affair, and it is expected that a large number of people will attend.

THE OUTLOOK FOR THE POPULISTS IN THIS CITY IS ANYTHING BUT PLEASANT. Miss Kate McKelvey presided at the organ, and while a beautiful wedding march was played the bride party entered in the following order: Mr. J. W. Conway with Miss Edmonia Goulding; Mr. Bird Holloway with Miss Ida Colburn; Mr. James Goulding with Miss Ida Colburn; Mr. James Goulding with Miss Ida Colburn.

ANNIVERSARY.
Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Tyler celebrated the second anniversary of their marriage on Thursday night, at a street last night. The yard was beautifully illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the spacious double porch was decorated with ferns and flowers.

MISS NANCY T. PITTMAN, aged 65 years, died this morning at her residence, in this city. William P. Lampkin, a prominent citizen of Mechanicsville, died last Thursday at his home, near Oak Grove. One of the marble columns of the old Mary Washington monument, which was in the process of being repaired, has been stolen. Steps have been taken to catch the thieves.

DISAPPOINTED REPUBLICANS.
The Williamsburg delegation to receive General Rosser—Personal. (Correspondence of the Dispatch.)
WILLIAMSBURG, VA., October 21.—The Republicans were much disappointed here to-day at the non-arrival of General Thomas L. Rosser, who had been billed, in flaming pink posters, to address the people at the court-house. The people were disappointed, and the Republicans were disappointed.

MR. CATON'S DECLINATION.
A Great Surprise But It Restored Party Harmony—
